What is Diversity?

“Multiculturalism is a view or policy of accepting diversity in terms of values, systems, cultures, customs, and politics in society.”

~ (Azyumari Azra 2025: 100)

History of Multiculturalism in Indonesia

Majapahit (14th century):
The “Bhineka Tunggal Ika”
(Unity in Diversity) motto.

Youth Pledge (October 28, 1928):
Pledge to one homeland,
one nation and one
language Indonesia

Proclamation of Independence
(August 17, 1945)

What is Uniformity?

Uniformity means similarity in variety, style, form, or arrangement.

Example: School uniforms or employee uniforms show similarity in the shape and color of clothing.

Kulit

Diversity Around Me

b) Tribe

According to BPS, Indonesia has 1,340 tribes spread across all regions. Each tribe has written and unwritten rules that are followed by its citizens and reflect their local wisdom.

Example:

Javanese Tribe

Batak Tribe

Bugis Tribe

Diversity Around Me

c) Religion

Everyone has the right to embrace and practice their religion according to their own beliefs.

Example:

Everyone has the right to embrace and practice their religion in accordance with their respective beliefs.

Diversity Around Me

d) Ethnicity

Definition (KBBI): The classification of a group of people based on certain physical characteristics.

Example:

Mongoloid: Yellow-skinned, straight brown to black hair, eyelids without creases.

Caucasoid: Fair-skinned, long-nosed, blonde to brown hair.

Negroid: Dark-skinned, lowered forehead, thick lips, wide nose, dark hair and curls.

Diversity Around Me

e) Intergroup

Definition: Refers to entities or groups that are not represented by the terms ethnicity, religion, or race.

The Importance of Multicultural Education

In the context of diversity in Indonesia, multicultural education is very relevant because:

Diversity Awareness:
Building awareness about cultural diversity, democracy and human rights.

Conflict Reduction:
Reduce negative thinking and acting tendencies, such as stereotyping and discrimination.

Facing Globalization:
Equipping people to be more sensitive to the flow of information and developments.

Relationship with Pancasila

Multiculturalism is in line with the values of Pancasila, including::

Respect for different religions and beliefs (Principle 1).

Develop an attitude of tolerance and mutual cooperation (Principles 2 and 3).

Apply the principles of deliberation and consensus (Principle 4).

Be fair and non-discriminatory (Principle 5)

Introducing the relevance of Multiculturalism to the Young Generation
